Introducing The National Flight Center

Imagine this: You check your luggage at the ticket counter and it goes directly to the bell desk at your hotel in Las Vegas — bypassing baggage claim altogether. Sound too good to be true? It isn't. You'll find National Flight Center locations in the lobbies of Harrah's Las Vegas Casino Hotel and the Rio All-Suite Casino Resort. In addition to checking luggage, you can also make reservations, purchase tickets or take care of frequent flyer transactions.

For your return flight, you can check-in at the National Flight Center up to 12 hours in advance. You'll receive a boarding pass on the spot so when you arrive at the airport, you may proceed directly to the National Airlines gate and board your flight.

National Flight Center is open seven days a week from 6:30 AM to 7:30 PM.
